Tradition

Classical guitar is steeped in European culture of the 19th century. For well over a decade Hill Guitar Company built our reputation making guitars based on historically significant builders' designs. The HERITAGE SERIES was created for players wanting traditional handmade Spanish construction with a solid top.

Quality

The HERITAGE SERIES is built in our California shop using the best hand selected woods from around the world. Each guitar is built and finished by hand with meticulous attention to detail.

Value

For over 40 years Hill Guitar Company has been known for building the best instruments at affordable prices, and The HERITAGE SERIES is no exception; essentially a work of art, these guitars will provide a lifetime's enjoyment in the livingroom or the concert hall. You need look no further to play a beautiful guitar with a rich warm traditional sound.
